Memento

By Joel Dupras

Memento is a modern and elegant collection for the dining room. Joël Dupras reinvented the round table by creating a central pillar made up of 24 white oak panels, assembled with mortar and tenon joints and reminiscent of an oak barrel. In addition to the all-wood option, the tabletop also comes in acid-etched lacquered glass, digital printed glass top or natural stone. The sideboards are finished on all sides and mounted on lacquered metallic legs for a 1960s feel. The top can be made of wood or—if you care to mix and match your Memento buffet with another collection—ceramic, marble, or granite.

Edmond 1300

By Joel Dupras

His name was Edmond Rostand and he wrote one of the most acclaimed plays in history: Cyrano de Bergerac. On the centenary of his death, we've dedicated a timeless collection to the man and the internationally beloved character he created. Edmond's classic style and understated black leather pulls put all the focus on the natural beauty of birch—something Cyrano, with his love of purity and grace, would undoubtedly have applauded.

Edmond

The collection is designed around straight lines, but the edges and corners are rounded for a softer overall effect. In the same way, the headboard for the bed can be entirely made of wood but is also available as a tufted panel, for added softness. All of the pieces feature finely tapered legs and black polyurethane tops that tie in nicely with the leather drawer pulls.

The Triumph collection has a mid-century modern inspired design. The tapered shape of the solid walnut legs and the thin, straight lines of the frames are faithful representations of this style, but the cushions are designed to meet today's standards for comfort.

Generously filled with feathers and polyester fibers, the back cushions are detailed with two small buttons that subtly recall the era's popular button-tufted backs.

Brooklyn

By Joel Dupras

Featuring shallow armchairs and loveseats, Brooklyn is designed with small spaces in mind—our latest in sectional sofas. With its sleek, curved lines and low profile, Brooklyn is something of a bohemian, just like the neighbourhood that inspired its name. Choose a different type of fabric for each section of your sofa and make a statement.

Brooklyn sofas, chaises, loveseats, and corner sofas are available with or without armrests and come with a square or lumbar cushion, depending on the section. With its delightful versatility and sturdy frames made of hardwood and glued and screwed plywood, Brooklyn is built to last and designed to fit right in, wherever you make your home. Add a personal touch to your sofa with optional decorative stitching. Choose from four styles and three thread colors for an understated or contrasting effect.
